

About me:

My name is Samuel Bestman Collins, a third year LL.B (Law) student of Leicester Law School, De Montfort University.

As an undergraduate law student of this great University, a formal course rep. and an incumbent SRC member representing Leicester, De Montfort University Law School, I believe I have the requisite and unique insight into De, Montfort University life. Also, as a student with good visions for the university community, I was heavily involved in the university Green Impact Project as an auditor last academics session and has volunteered in other organizations such as DMU Square mile and Nigerian Students Society; hence, my experience of DMU Life and events organization gives me the skills required to be your Black Minority Ethnic representative. So, let your vote count.

POLICIES:

OUR COMMUNITY: It is important to state here that living in Leicester should be a dream and not a nightmare. Thus, I will create a conducive atmosphere by lobbying in conjunction with the International Students Rep. on international visa regulations and prioritizing diverse career opportunities and employability support for all black minority ethnics.

- To improve social and community experience; such as national and cultural events as well as ethnic club nights.
- Events and meet-ups over summer to build our community (defend our (Your) education).
- Campaign through DSU on post-study work visas.
- And also see that our (your) voice are heard in the university community (Defend Your Rights).

So, for more supportive community, vote Samuel number 1 and make your vote count!
